

How livable is your community? As of today, 13 Florida communities, including Fort Lauderdale, Hallandale Beach, Hollywood, Miami-Dade County, Town of Cutler Bay, and Village of Pinecrest asserted that they wanted to work to make their communities more age-friendly.

Join the city of Hallandale Beach, the first community to be designated as part of the AARP Network of Age-Friendly Communities in Broward County, and AARP Florida to learn how communities across the United States and in Florida are working to become more livable for people of all ages. Well-designed, livable communities promote health, drive economic growth, and make for happier, healthier residents of all ages.

When: Tuesday, February 21st from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Where: Ingalls Park Center, 735 Southwest 1st Street, Hallandale Beach, FL 33009

Event Agenda: How Livable is your Community? Broward County Age Friendly Summit

- 9:30 a.m. Networking Opportunity
- 10:00 a.m. Welcome & Introductions
- 10:15 a.m. Why Age Friendly?
- 10:30 a.m. What is the AARP Network of Age-Friendly Communities?
- 11:15 a.m. Why is my city working to become more age-friendly?
- 11:45 a.m. Questions

REGISTER Please RSVP by February 15, 2017 to Laura Cantwell at lcantwell@aarp.org or 727-592-8020. If you are unable to attend, please forward the invitation to someone who can attend in your place.

MORE INFORMATION In preparation for the meeting, we have included a link to AARP's National Conference on livable community issues (<http://www.aarp.org/livable-communities/about/info-2016/livestream-video-livable-communities-national-conference/?v=cY6HYma1TAQ.html>).

Sincerely,

City of Hallandale Beach & AARP Florida